Practise your spellings using these ways;

Use the 'wrong' hand to write out the spellings.

Look at newspapers, magazines and other reading material to see if you can find this week's spellings.

'Test' your family on your spellings. See if they can get more right than you!

Put the spellings in alphabetical order.

Write each spelling into a funny sentence. (Can you make someone giggle?)

Look at the word, close your eyes and write out the word. NO CHEATING!

Challenge members of your family to use each spelling in one sentence.

Geography

What is deforestation?

Research 5 reasons 'for' deforestation

Research 5 reasons 'against' deforestation

Write a debate and come to a conclusion about your view on deforestation

History

Recall all the information you remember on the World war 2

Can you create a A3 poster all about World War 2, why it started, who was involved, evacuation etc

Letter of informing!

Write a letter to Boris Johnson all about deforestation and saving the planet!

Top story tips!

Don't forget to include must haves (capital letters, full stops, adjectives)

Why not plan it first? Draw your ideas, or jot them down. Remember to use the vocabulary you have been learning.

Here's Tom Palmer with some planning help:
